Turning Hearts, Preparing People

He was a pastor. She was a Christian therapist. They looked happily married but they were really...

Desperate to find healing for their family.

When both marriage and ministry came to a breaking point, Richie walked away from financial security in order to pursue the answers to three questions: Could he find a power filled walk with God? Could God heal his marriage? Was it possible to have a Godly family? Since that time, they have seen miracle after miracle as God has done for their family what no one else could do.

As Richie and Timi share the stories of how God is restoring their family, audiences find themselves relating to the transparent narrative of their struggles with anger, intimacy, priorities and trust. You will find hope as they share the practical steps to connecting with God and others that can transform your life.

Elijah Now is committed to strengthening individuals and families through the power of a transformational relationship with Jesus, utilizing seminars, media, and mentoring. Richie and Timi are available to speak at your church, event, or retreat.

Topics include:
